From All Reports . . . Rape Time Is Ripe

IN THE VALLEY OF THE MOON

Well . . . Well . . . Well . . . The headlines in the big papers say: Valley of Moon Men are charged with rape . . .

We were happy to learn that Superior Judge Charles J. McGoldrick has found Domenic Robustelli, 26-year old laborer guilty of his actions in April 6th involving a 19-year old patient at the Sonoma State Hospital . . .

So often the female is just as much to blame as the male, but in a case of this type it's a good thing that Charles J. McGoldrick is the judge instead of this writer . . .

We just can't think of enough mean things to do to such a person, but we would start by giving him a year in the county jail and on the first Sunday of each month hang him by his heels in front of the court house and use a horsewhip on him for about an hour, then send him back to jail for another month . . .

After a series of 12 of these public lickings the man would be given his choice of spending the rest of his life in the state pen or being operated on in such a manner that he would no longer be able to repeat his actions of April 6th . . .

This would not only serve as punishment for him . . . but would give the public something to think about for a long time . . .

Thank you,
The Publisher
